Conformity showed that the respondents were uncertain about the correct answers in some cases. Conformity can occur in the presence of others, or when an individual is alone. People often choose to conform to society rather than to pursue personal desires – because it is often easier to follow the path others have made already, rather than forging a new one. Thus, conformity is sometimes a product of group communication. Norms are implicit, specific rules, guidance shared by a group of individuals, that guide their interactions with others. This tendency to conform occurs in small groups and/or in society as a whole and may result from subtle unconscious influences (predisposed state of mind), or from direct and overt social pressure. For example, people tend. The answers might have been evident to the experimenters, but the participants Conformity or conformism is the act of matching attitudes, beliefs, and behaviors to group norms, politics or being like-minded 616ac6cc42
